Photography Exhibition

2013 Carolina Global

January 9 – March 8, 2013
FedEx Global Education Center
The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

View amateur photography from around the world in this exhibition featuring works by UNC students, faculty, staff, and alumni. This year, in connection with the campus-wide academic theme “Water in Our World,” the exhibition has a focus on water-related issues. Winners of the 2013 Carolina Global Photography Competition will be announced at the opening reception. Special consideration was given to images that are distinctive, defy expectations, embrace a new perspective, showcase the commonality of humanity, or illustrate potential solutions to global challenges.

Co-hosted by the UNC Center for Global Initiatives, Study Abroad, and UNC Global. The FedEx Global Education Center is located at 301 Pittsboro Street, Chapel Hill 27516.

Photos by (left to right from top): Albert Thrower, Ian Lye, Erin Hull, Emily Bowe, Frank Wu, Cyara de Lannoy, and Jayme Hostetter.

The Power of Your Own Story
Empowering Storytellers in Liberia with Ken Harper

January 30, 2013
6:00 PM – 8:00 PM
Lecture - Awards Presentation - Reception

Ken Harper is an award winning designer, photojournalist and media educator. He is the project director of Together Liberia, a digital news agency that brings together universities and leading Liberian media to empower Liberians to speak for themselves.

Liberia experienced decades of civil war that left over two hundred thousand civilians dead. Suffering from trauma, still immersed in extreme poverty and corruption, the storytellers and journalists of Liberia struggle to move forward. Together Liberia is dedicated to telling the stories of the Liberian people through word, audio and visual media.

After this lecture by Harper, awards will be presented to Carolina Global Photography Competition winners. An art viewing and reception will follow.