Explore the transformative power and essential need for water through the lens of a camera, an artist’s paintbrush and a unique art installation. In conjunction with the 2012-2014 UNC campus-wide theme “Water in our World,” the FedEx Global Education Center is hosting a multifaceted art exhibit which challenges the viewer to consider the implications of an evolving environment, the restrictions of necessary everyday tasks caused by the lack of water and the power that access to clean water has to change lives.

THE WATER OF LIFE

Artistic Expressions

FedEx Global Education Center

EXHIBITION OPENING

March 21, 2013

6 P.M. Art viewing and reception

7 P.M. to 9 P.M. Artist talks and live multimedia concert featuring the work of Allen Anderson, Brooks de Wetter-Smith and Tana Hochbaum.

INSTALLATION COMPLETION RECEPTION

March 28, 2013 | 5 P.M.

The FedEx Global Education Center is open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. This exhibition is hosted by the UNC Art Department and UNC Global with support from the African Studies Center and Department of Music.

global.unc.edu